The Gandhi Foundation exists to spread knowledge and understanding of the life and work of Mohandas K Gandhi (1869-1948) and to explain and demonstrate the continuing relevance of his insights and actions for all of us, especially in the UK. Gandhi is one of the most significant figures of modern times. He began as an ordinary individual and gradually developed into a remarkable human being. He considered that everyone has the potential for personal ethical/spiritual development and for him that was best learnt in community. His approach was holistic and evolved experimentally. Gandhi’s ideas have relevance beyond his own time.

The Gandhi Foundation promotes:

Nonviolence to replace war and aggression

Egalitarian and decentralised economic systems such as cooperatives and trusteeships

Simple lifestyles that avoid an endless quest for more possessions and superficial experiences. This is essential to preserve the planet’s finite resources and prevent ecological disaster

Democratic systems that involve the active participation of everyone

Tolerant pluralistic societies. Gandhi regarded different religions and philosophies as each possessing some but not the whole truth

Respect for animals and an end to their exploitation by humans.

Annual activities

The GF Annual Lecture
Speakers have included The Dalai Lama, Mairead Maguire, Bruce Kent, Adam Curle, Scilla Elworthy, Mark Tully, Vince Cable, Rowan Williams.

The GF International Peace Award recognises individuals and organisations who have made an outstanding contribution to peace & justice and who deserve to be more widely known for their efforts. They have included Clive Stafford Smith, Shabana Azmi, Jeremy Corbyn.

The residential Summer Gathering is an opportunity to explore a relevant theme in Gandhi’s life’s work with a community of like-minded families and friends, live simply and have a whole week of fun.

The Multifaith Celebration brings people of different faiths together to celebrate their common humanity.

The Annual Gathering is a short AGM followed by a presentation on a Gandhian theme, held at Kingsley Hall community centre.
